

DEC participated in Egypt Energy Show

From February 19th to 21st, the 7th Egypt Energy Show (EGYPES 2024) took place at the Egypt International Exhibition Center in Cairo, under the auspices of the Ministry of Petroleum and Mineral Resources of Egypt. Egyptian President H.E. Abdel Fattah el-Sisi delivered the opening speech. Thousands of delegates from 120 countries and regions attended the exhibition.

During the event, Dongfang Honghua(HH) and the joint venture company with the Egyptian General Petroleum Corporation, Egyptian Petroleum HH Rig Manufacturing Company (EPHH), showcased their leading technologies and products including desert fast-moving drilling rigs, energy storage equipment, and oilfield photovoltaic systems. This participation aimed at demonstrating HH's industry-leading technology and products, seeking further cooperation opportunities and partners, and promoting the company's development and business expansion in the regional market.

Throughout the exhibition, HH representatives engaged in extensive conversations with officials from the Egyptian Ministry of Petroleum and Mineral Resources, EGPC, clients from countries including Egypt, Libya, and Algeria, as well as domestic and international suppliers. Detailed introductions were given on HH's drilling technology, new energy promotion plans, and in-depth discussions were held on strengthening cooperation.

Egyptian Petroleum HH Rig Manufacturing Company (EPHH) is a joint venture established in April 2007 by HH and three subsidiaries under the Egyptian General Petroleum Corporation (EGPC) in the Ain Sokhna Industrial Zone, Egypt.
